The Pastor's Reflections

We consider three more parables this week. We'll follow the same principles of interpretation we did when we reflected on last week's parable of the sower. In these three parables Jesus announces the theme. "The kingdom of God may be likened to..."

So we're thinking about the kingdom, Jesus' primary teaching. In the one and only prayer that he taught his disciples Jesus prayed, "Your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven." The kingdom he speaks of isn't a place; it's a state of being that's in perfect harmony with the will of God. The kingdom that Jesus speaks of is already present in the world, but it's still incomplete. It's a work in progress. Keep this in mind as we focus the three images of the kingdom Jesus used in the Gospel passage today.

"The kingdom of heaven may be likened to a man who sowed good seed in his field. While everyone was asleep his enemy came and sowed weeds all through the wheat." Here we have the image of the incomplete kingdom. The parable introduces a hostile element into this kingdom scenario. The householder's enemy has made an attempt to destroy the wheat crop; he secretly sowed weeds among the wheat.

This image of treachery suggests that the kingdom will not bring the world into harmony with God's will all that easily. Because the household was asleep, the enemy was able to do his destructive work. Peter, in his second letter, cautioned his flock about this. "Be sober and vigilant. Your opponent the devil is prowling around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour." (2 Peter 5:8)

The wheat field has been compromised by the presence of the weeds. The servants suggest going out and pulling up all the weeds so that the wheat can grow uninhibited. But the householder is wise. Pulling up the weeds will also uproot the wheat. "Let them grow together until harvest; then I will tell the harvesters, 'First collect the weeds and tie them in bundles for burning; but gather the wheat into my barns.'"

Once again, this week, the Gospel passage ends with a commentary on the parable. It's an interpretation that found its way into the Gospel. It's not the only interpretation possible. Take the time to sit with the images for a while. Come up with your own interpretation. Who is the householder? Who are the slaves? Who is the enemy? What does the wheat mean for you? What do the weeds mean for you? Why are the weeds allowed to grow along with the wheat? In light of this parable, what is your personal understanding of the "kingdom of heaven?"

Whoever has ears to hear ought to hear.

—Matthew 13:43

The second parable we all know by heart. “The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed that a person took and planted in a field. It is the smallest of all the seeds, yet when it is full-grown it is the largest of plants. It becomes a large bush, and the birds of the sky come and dwell in its branches.”

Don't let the simplicity of this parable tempt you to brush over its interpretation. Spend time with this image of the “smallest of all the seeds.” Hiding in this little seed is “the largest of all the plants.” The plant becomes so large that the birds will build their nests among its branches. I again invite you to personalize the parable. What does it mean for you, very personally? Try to open your heart to the parable. Don't think about it too much. Try to feel its message. What is the message it's speaking to your heart?

The third parable is also a familiar one. “The kingdom of heaven is like yeast that a woman took and mixed with three measures of wheat until the whole batch was leavened.” Could a teaching be any more simple? How could this short sentence contain Jesus' central teaching, the kingdom of God? I'll leave that for you to discover. I just want to note two things that might be useful to know.

Wheat is common for us. However, in Jesus' day it was quite special. It was difficult to grow in the arid climate, and so was expensive. Barley, on the other hand, was hardy and easy to grow. It could withstand very dry weather. The poor would bake with barley flour because it was inexpensive.

Yeast is a product we buy at the supermarket. It comes dried in packets or in organic cubes. In Jesus' day yeast was made by mixing water and flour. The mixture was kept in a dark place for several days until it began to spoil. Then some of the mixture was removed and more water added to the original liquid. After a period of time it would begin to bubble. This would be used to leaven flour. Leaven was considered a product of death because the mixture had to spoil. For this reason unleavened bread was used for the Passover. There was to be no element of death present is that celebration of renewed life.

Think about wheat. Think about leaven. Go back and ponder the parable. Remember to move the process from your head to your heart.

Jesus ended this series of parables with an invitation. “Whoever has ears to hear ought to hear.”

RELIGIOUS LIFE
CHURCH
2017

Sr. Ona B. Bessette, CND

“It is true that all I have ever desired most deeply and what I still most ardently wish is that the great precept of the love of God above all things and of the neighbor as oneself be written in every heart.”

(Writing of Marguerite Bourgeoys, p. 187)

IN THE MOTHER HOUSE OF THE CONGREGATION OF NOTRE DAME, these words of St. Marguerite Bourgeoys are presented in French, English, Japanese, and Spanish in a small oratory containing the ashes of her heart. Sitting in prayer there, I contemplate the call that God has placed in my heart to continue the work begun by St. Marguerite in Montreal. As a member of the General Council of the Congregation, I am reminded that leadership is an act of service – an invitation to show love and compassion. As Jesus washed the feet of the disciples and invited them to do the same, leaders in all walks of life are called to be beacons of care and fight for the advancement of others. Throughout her life,

St. Marguerite expressed this love and service to all she met. She was eager to help the young women of the colony and to ensure education for the children of the colonists and the native peoples. Today, sisters, associates and colleagues of the Congregation of Notre Dame continue to respond to the needs of their neighbors across the globe. The ministry of leadership in the Congregation is an invitation to live the spirit of St. Marguerite in the current context of a world that longs for compassion. We live in a time when it is nearly impossible to be ignorant of the many places in the world where love and freedom are difficult to see. Yet when we look into the eyes of refugee child seeking a place of security, hope can be seen. Our God is the source of hope in the darkness of despair; our God is the light that illuminates the way to freedom. Our task, as the people of God and those inspired by St. Marguerite, is to be a tangible source of love and compassion to others. While we may not be physically able to offer shelter to that child, we have the power to advocate for change and the gift of praying hearts. Prayer that rises from the heart of compassion is a powerful force for liberation in our world. St. Marguerite, intercede for those in our world who seek hope and freedom.

STEWARDSHIP REPORT

The Sunday collection amounted to $6,470.00

ParishPay amounted to $1,123.54

Total: $7,593.54

The second collection for the Mission for the Congregation of the Blessed Sacrament amounted to: $2,870.00

ALERT: Please keep St. Jean's in mind when you travel or vacation. We rent every possible space in the complex in order to make up for our yearly shortfall. The weekly collection barely covers half the Parish expenses. When our collection dips below $10,000 we feel a terrible strain on our cash flow. Please commit to the support of the parish. Thank you.

TODDLER PLAY GROUP

We are enjoying a most successful year with the Toddler Play Group. Eighty children ranging from 18 months to 3 1/2 years old are having their first "school" experience in our well-equipped and friendly play room. The program runs until June and reservations for the upcoming year, which begins in mid-September, have started to come in. If you, or any friends, will be looking for a place for the Fall, we urge you to reserve now.

Call the St. Jean's Toddler Play Group Director, Pauline Reenock at 212-472-2853 Ext. 2 for more information or to plan a visit.

GRIEF AND BEREAVEMENT SERVICES

Calvary Hospital's Grief and Bereavement services will soon be starting a "Precious Moments" group in Manhattan! The group is offered to children between the ages of 6 to 11, who have experienced the death of a loved one. This group is open to both Calvary Hospital families, as well as community members, and it is free of charge. The group itself will be located at St. Jean Baptiste High School, 173 East 75th Street, between 3rd and Lexington Avenue.

"Precious Moments" is an age-appropriate group designed for children to come and express themselves on a topic that is usually difficult for them to share. In this space, children are given the time and attention needed to find their voice and to disclose their feelings. Most often, this is done so through artistic expression such as arts and crafts, storytelling, and puppetry.

If you know of or are in contact with children who may benefit from this group, please feel free to contact Brittany Dalbow, Bereavement Counselor, at (646) 771-6604 to schedule an initial intake for the group, as well as to gain further information.

RENEW AND REBUILD CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

We're underway! We've signed contracts with PASCOM SOUND to conclude the upgrading of the sound system in the church. This involves a great deal of digital programming, and the installation of two major speakers (one is 15 feet long and the other 7 feet), and replacing and repositioning the present speakers in the church. This has a price tag of $59,985. We're budgeting an additional $10,000 for electrical work. The school auditorium is getting a completely new system. We've budgeted $75,000 for the sound system and electrical work.

Both the church and the auditorium are daunting projects because of the amount of reverberation in both spaces. The church has the additional challenge of the many columns that interfere with the streaming of direct sound. To address that issue, we're going to add new speakers on the columns.

We don't have a date for the installation work yet. We've given a down payment of $40,000 to purchase the speakers from the manufacturer.

A sidewalk bridge has been erected along 76th street. Over the next few weeks we'll be scaffolding the dome in preparation for some stone repair at the base of the cooper roof, and the recaulking, painting and sealing of the 12 stained glass windows. The construction of the scaffold will take about a month, the window and stonework about 6 weeks, and another month to take down the scaffold. (That's if everything goes as planned. Enough said!) The down payment for the scaffolding was $100,000 with another $26,000 to be paid at the conclusion of the job. The window repair and restoration was estimated at $60,000. The stone work can't be estimated until the stone is inspected after the scaffold has been erected.

Finally, FELIX CHAVEZ, INC. is currently working in the vestibule of the church repainting parts of the walls that have been damaged over the years. The company is also restoring the exterior doors that aren't in good shape. They suffer from extensive exposure to rain and snow. This is a $25,000 project.

We thank everyone who donated to the 2016-17 RENEW AND REBUILD CAMPAIGN that the diocese initiated. We're presently waiting for the first check from the diocese, about $100,000. Concerned and generous parishioners give regularly for the maintenance of the church building. We managed to squirrel away $179,000 outside the RENEW AND REBUILD CAMPAIGN for restoration maintenance. We're using this money to jumpstart the present projects. Thank you for your stewardship and dedication to the maintenance of this architectural gem and monument to the Catholic faith.
